FOSCARINI

A soft shape made from blown glass appears fixed with a satin-finish metal button positioned in relation to the central hole. This is the distinguishing mark of Circus. The name evokes the lamp's circular outline; a shape that is always current, so much so that it has been a part of the collection since 1994.

Available as a wall or ceiling lamp, Circus decorates with a simple, balanced character, underlined by the intense glow that filters from the white diffuser.

The glossy surface enriches the basic shape of the lamp through an illusion of elegant reflections. The lamp is available in two sizes.
