

New Buds, suspension design Rodolfo Dordoni 2007

FOSCARINI

New Buds is a suspension lamp made of glossy blown glass, which is white on the inside and coloured on the outside. The project starts with a spherical volume and it is available in three different shapes and sizes, which retain the original softness and liaise extremely well with one another in the composition of cascades of light. The diffuser is open at the bottom and focuses an intense beam of down-light.

The timeless elegance of New Buds is a distinguishing trait of Rodolfo Dordoni's work, making this lamp suitable for a multitude of settings and styles.
