

Tivu, wall

design Jozeph Forakis 2011

FOSCARINI

Tivu is inspired by the traditional TV screen; it is a lamp dedicated to the furnishing aesthetics and functional requirements of modern life. The rectangular body of the lamp, with rounded corners, is available in two different sizes in either a bold black or more neutral and recessive white. The light source is completely screened by a semi-transparent element through which light is diffused onto the wall and into the room. Double is also its personality: incisive and protagonist the black version, more neutral and camouflage the white one.

Tivu enables a multiple of uses: the small version is suited for paths of light, beside a bed or above a mirror, while the large version has a more intense focal value, capable of adding character to a whole room. Suitable for both domestic and contract settings, innovative and familiar at the same time, tivu is set to become a new icon in the world of furniture and contemporary lifestyle.

Tivu, wall technical info

FOSCARINI

Description

Wall or ceiling lamp with reflected light made of injection moulded polycarbonate. When completely closed, it consists of two elements: a front shielding black or white surface and a wall mounting plate, through which the reflected light passes, in satin finish transparent polycarbonate which also acts as a housing for the lighting technology part. In the large version, electronic ballast and possibility of wall mounting vertically.

Materials: polycarbonate

Colours: white, black

Brightness reflected light

Model

Tivu large

Weight

net kg: 1,30
gross kg: 1,80

Packing

vol.m³: 0,019
n.boxes: 1

Bulbs

– fluorescent 2x18W 2G11
electronic ballast

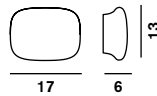

Certifications

horizontal and vertical use

Tivu small

Weight

net kg: 0,30
gross kg: 0,60

Packing

vol.m³: 0,004
n.boxes: 1

Bulbs

– halogen 1x20W G9

Certifications

2D/3D drawings
photometric info assembly instructions

area download

Tivu, wall designer+collection

FOSCARINI

Jozeph Forakis

An artist and designer of greek origin. after his master's at the Domus Academy in Milan, he worked on various projects and studies to merge design and ergonomics.

One of his biggest successes was the admission of his Havana to MOMA of New York, design collection '98.

Watch the Tivu video:

Go to concept site for Tivu:
www.foscarini.com/tivu

Tivu Collection

